Repeating a Course for Credit

If a student repeats a course once, the second grade awarded (excluding a grade of "W") replaces the first grade in the computation of the cumulative grade point average. The semester grade point average during the semester in which the course was first attempted will not be affected. When course is repeated more than once, all grades for the course excluding the first grade will be employed in computation of the cumulative grade point average. Official records at the institution will list each course in which a student has enrolled. It is the student's responsibility to request of the Registrar that the forgiveness policy be implemented.
